The 1947 Maids and a Man

T H E Y E A R B O O K

Published by the Student Body of
TUBMAN HIGH SCHOOL

Augusta, Georgia

SUE HOUCK, Editor-in-Chief
LOUISE CLAUSSEN, Business Manager

Foreword

*W*E, The Annual Staff, present to you, the Student Body and Faculty, the 1947 Maids and a Man. If this book serves as an inspiration to those who follow us, and if, in later years, it brings back pleasant memories which will create in us a greater devotion to our Alma Mater, our efforts in attempting to make this record of our school life will have been justified.

THE STAFF OF MAIDS AND A MAN.

Dedication

TO our new Principal, Mr. Lamar Woodward, whose altruistic attitude, cooperative spirit, and tireless energy in the interest of Tubman have early endeared him to us, we lovingly dedicate this 1947 Maids and a Man.

LEADERS

Meta Meiners, Ann Whatley, Benita Phinzy, Eleanor Swearingen, Captain, Miss Bertha Carswell, Sponsor.

The Student Patrol functions as a part of the Tubman Citizenship League.

Membership is based on merit. Only those girls of high character and scholastic proficiency—qualities of a good citizen—are chosen to serve in this capacity.

The work of the Student Patrol is to maintain order in the halls, gymnasium and lunchrooms, to serve behind the counter in the sub-sidiary lunchroom, and to perform any duty where their service might be needed.

Junior Red Cross

The Tubman Chapter of the Junior Red Cross accepted as its project for 1946-47 service to the patients at the Cliver General Hospital. In carrying out this project members of the Red Cross made Halloween and Thanksgiving caps and favors for the patients. Valentines were donated and magazines collected. On the various holidays the patients received poinsettias, Easter lilies and carnations. The Red Cross also sent 100 Christmas boxes overseas.

The clicking of the knitting needles and the creaking of the rocker accentuated the quietness existing on the porch of a modern apartment house. The needles and a partly finished sweater were in the hands of a tall, angular Tubman teacher, who frequently paused in her knitting in order to comb her short and wavy white hair.

The stillness was broken by the slamming of the porch door. "Oh, darn!" issued from the lips of a petite, elderly lady who carried in her hands a large black volume embossed with gold. She slowly pulled a chair near that of her friend and then seated herself.

Turning the book so that her companion could read the title, she spoke, "Look at this old annual. I found it in the back of my closet while I was looking for my little plaid copy of Burns' poems."

The other spoke, "Let's look at it."

The little old lady opened the book to the title page on which was written "Maids and a Man" and the date, "1947." Slowly she turned the pages, one by one, carefully scanning each for the faces she remembered well.

"There's Madeline Allen. She's just won the Nobel Prize in Science."

The eyes of her comrade cast a glance toward that youthful picture of a girl whose face even then showed promise of great works.

"Mary Jane Bible actually turned out to be an actress in 'Life With Susie'."

"I always knew Jean Grear would get into trouble. She and Ethel Smith were arrested by Eleanor Swearingen for kidnapping Frank Sinatra. Ann Weaver is the Attorney for the Defense."

"I surely will pity them if sentenced by Judge Meiere. She always gives such screwy fines and sentences."

"Here's Sue Houck. She spoke at Tubman last week about her life as a missionary in Bhutan."

For a few moments, the only sound heard was that of the pages as the old lady turned them, accompanied by the clicking of the knitting needles. Then the knitter spoke, "Isn't that Marjorie McConnell? I heard her play in Carnegie Hall last summer, and she was really good."

"You remember Ellen Merry. She went up to Atlantic City as Miss Georgia Peach and came back as Mrs. America."

Both teachers were silent, lost in their memories; then suddenly one burst forth with "There's Katharine Phinzy. I was certainly right in my prophecy about her. Just this morning I saw her wheeling cabbages home from the A. and P.!"

A few more minutes passed. "Wilma Pennington and Helen Stanley really can sing those jingles for 'Super-Dooper Soap Suds.'"

A little later, "Ann Reese has really changed. She came to see me yesterday and brought Percival, Jr. He is the very image of Ann. He's just as cute as he can be."

Lily Rufo's hands are being used for all the Chen Yu ads. Those are always so attractive!"

"I saw in Weather's sports column that Savage was selected for the Women's All American Basketball Team."

A while longer the little old lady scanned the pages of that portrayal of school life, and then she drifted back through the years to 1947, while her companion continued to knit. Finally she came back to the present and arose. "I'm going in and finish reading Logue and Wilkinson's Biography of Dorothy Hains. I'll see you later."

Last Will and Testament

WE, THE SENIOR CLASS OF TUBMAN HIGH SCHOOL, 1947, being of broken health and dubiously sound mind, do hereby declare and publish this, our Last Will and Testament.

Item one: I, Elizabeth Baird, do will and bequeath to Eleanora Nixon the privilege of a roundabout ride home in Miss Gilliland's ancient Ford, which cannot negotiate the Bon-Air Hill.

Item two: I, Frances Flowers, do will and bequeath to Peggy Meads my ability to converse in Spanish (?) with Miss Miller's good-looking Peruvian friends.

Item three: We, Lois Huff and Marita Smith, do will and bequeath to Ann Whatley and Ann Davis our ability to cure or kill all patients who may happen to drop by the First Aid Room.

Item four: I, Billie Blount, do will and bequeath to any lucky Junior my ability to get inevitably the back desk in any class.

Item five: I, Elnora Goodwin, do will and bequeath to Joan Brown a walking cane with which to ascend and descend the stairs.

Item six: I, Ellen Merry, do will and bequeath to Ann Davis my horn-rimmed glasses, so that she will not be totally blind after proof-reading the Tubman Times.

Item seven: We, the Senior 2's, do will and bequeath to future Seniors our most convenient homeroom, Room 31.

Item eight: I, Paula Layne, do will and bequeath to Anne Cooper my love for and loyalty to the Richmond 'leven.

Item nine: I, Ann Reese, do will and bequeath to Ann Davis my freckles in the hope that she will have more luck with freckle cream than I have had.

Item ten: We, the Senior 5's, do will and bequeath to the Junior Class our ability to write weekly themes for Miss Marshall.

Item eleven: I, Janice Weathers, do will and bequeath to Eloise Nixon my typewriter in the hope that, when she sits down the night before the newspaper deadline to begin writing the gossip and club news, she may be faster and more successful than I was.

Item twelve: We, Margie and Fay Joyner, do will and bequeath to the Snyder twins our ability to switch classes and not get away with it.

Item thirteen: I, Artasser Kelly, do will and bequeath to Elizabeth Woods my ability to take dictation from Miss King at two hundred words a minute.

Item fourteen: We, Sue Houck, Dot Paulk, and Ann Weaver, do will and bequeath to the '48 Annual Staff our rummage sale location in front of the saloon on Thirteenth street.

Item fifteen: I, Louise Claussen, do will and bequeath to Helen Evans my position as "Acid Taster" in Chemistry lab in the hope that she will get less painful results than I did.

Item sixteen: I, Barbara Maxwell, do will and bequeath my '46 jalopy (1846) to anyone with teeth sound enough to take the bumps, ears deaf enough to disregard the rattles, and mind crazy enough to attempt to drive the "thing."

Item seventeen: We, Miss Comey's Homeroom Class of '47 do will and bequeath to her homeroom class of '48 our self-control which makes it possible for us to endure that maddening Activities Period in Room 21.

Item eighteen: I, Gloria Walker, do will and bequeath to Delores Gibbs my great ability to translate French when called upon without notice.

Item nineteen: I, Edna Smoak, do will and bequeath to June Norris my slim figure in the hope that she will get farther than I did.

Item twenty: I, Willena Etheridge, do will and bequeath to some sucker the privilege of being a majorette in the band and of freezing her legs at the football games.

Item twenty-one: I, Joan Byrd, do will and bequeath my well-known laugh to Ann Whatley who has always tried to master the art.

Item twenty-two: I, Lucy Ann Cooper, do will and bequeath to Jean Smith my ability to squeeze ads out of people in order to finance the Tubman Times.

Item twenty-three: I, Betty Powell, do will and bequeath my front desk in Latin to Ellen Martin so that she may hear Miss McAuliffe.

Item twenty-four: We, the Senior Class of '47 do will and bequeath to the graduating class of '48:

Our detailed course in Occupational Guidance
Our excessive enrollment in Senior Latin
Our favorite part of the school day—Activities Period.

Signed, sworn to, sealed, and delivered before us this twenty-ninth day of May in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven.

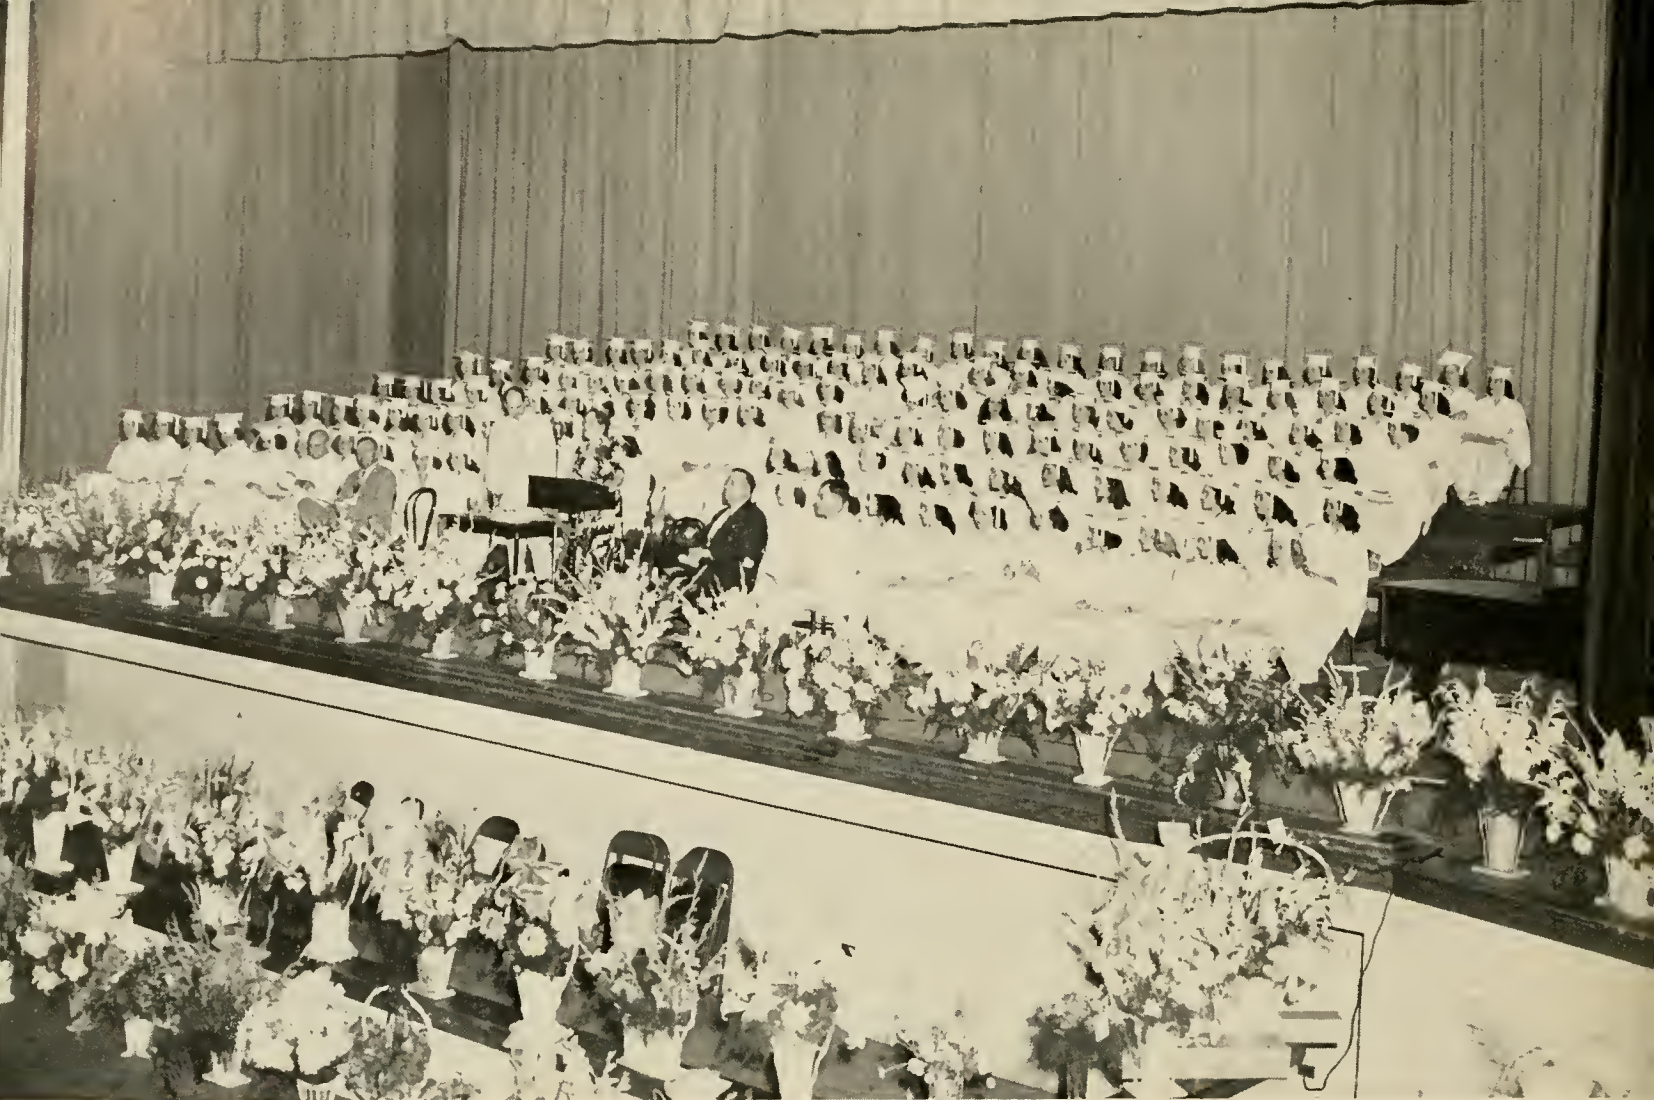

ESTHER CORDLE.

The BLACK and the GOLD

Now we'll give a cheer for Tubman,
For the school we love the most.
Evermore we'll sing her praises
And her name shall be our boast.
To the top we'll raise her colors
And her standards ever hold.
Then let us give a rousing cheer
For the Tubman Black and Gold!
Then let us give a rousing cheer
For the Tubman Black and Gold!

(Chorus)
So with voices loud and strong
To her name we'll raise a song;
For to her our hearts belong
With a love untold.
Then we'll cheer for Tubman High
May her spirit never die!
Victorious may fly
Dear old Black and Gold!

The future is yours! A new age is open to you — the Atomic Age of new discoveries and advancements in every science. The rumble of war machines is over, and a peaceful world is in the shaping again. Yours are the Four Freedoms as you contribute your efforts and talents to this new world of peace — "Freedom From Want"; "Freedom From Fear"; "Freedom Of Speech"; "Freedom Of Religion, and the right to worship as you like." Many of you will seek higher educational advantages, while others will begin their life work immediately. Wherever you are, or whatever your endeavor, most of you will strive to establish homes of your own. Sears, Roebuck and Co., your family store in Augusta, will serve you in all your personal requirements with its traditional policy of honesty and sincerity. Shop at Sears and Save.
